- REESE THE FLEECE BACK FROM PLYMOUTH / PILGRIMS APPLAUD

Our notorious "Bad Electrician" Reese the Fleece has returned to WallyWorld a true conquering hero. You see The Fleece was able to double the man hours of the job at Plymouth House of Corruption with his usual modus operandi of feet dragging, incompetence and eBay merchandise thieving. You can log on to eBay right now and find the following items: 1 50 pound sack of brass cell handles = $50.00, 1000 feet of fiber optic cable marked "PCHC" for $500.00, and 3 slightly used green G.I.D. T-Shirts = $29.99. He is stealing money from the state in many ways, but the most egregious is just by being employed. As soon as he was back his con-hating ways continued as his "mini me" inmate ball-polisher told him about the electro-pulse life saving machine being approved for the gym and The Fleece blew his top screaming "I am King Shit of Electrical Maintenance.", while his co-workers (who he has ratted on in the past) envisioned attaching the electric paddles to each one of his testicles before yelling "Clear!" before they gave him the nut roasting. They would then sing, "Fleecenuts roasting on an open fire, fiber optic cables nipping at eBay's nose." A good time to be had by all. Hey Bad Sparky, get your shit together and count your blessings. Thomas Edison rolls in his grave when he thinks incompetents like you are "at the switch." It is not our fault that the neighborhood kids growing up tied you to a Lionel H-O Scale track and ran the 5:15 from Sante Fe into your ass crack. "All aboard!" Stop your con-hating and count your blessings as you could not stand the heat at General Electric of PG&E!

- RESTORATIVE JUSTICE SOLD SHORT / SCARY SHERRY INSTRUCTED TO ATTEND

WallyWorld had a weekend Restorative Justice retreat where none other than the Most Incompetent Employee In The History of The Department of Corruption, Scary Sherry Medusa, was in full bloom. When outside guests would ask her questions she would baffle them with her unfiltered hatred of the convicts in attendance. The guests, some from the legislator, law enforcement, and colleges, looked at each other in amazement that this Ape Woman from the Stone Age of gulags is allowed to remain employed. There was no doubt in their minds why recidivism is so high with abusive shrews like this Director of Overclassification at the helm. Scary Sherry was there to make certain no convict attempted to tell the outsiders the truth about the failures of the Department of Corruption. How they compel men to commit suicide, turn youthful drug offenders into murderers, and do all within their power to undermine the reform measures written into law. The Bag Lady of Corrections has outlived her usefulness by about 25 years. It sickens us here at Free Speech Central to know she will get a fat pension to buy Voodoo dolls with...
