

AMERICAN COMMUNISM: It's Not Black or White – IT'S BLUE

As uniformed pigs across America band together in their rampage against freedom, bashing in heads, kicking and stomping ribs, and shooting anything that talks back. Some members of society still see the colors black and white; but that's just what the pigs want. They don't want you to see their blue! The blue against you.

They want Americans to point at each other, and it's the biggest misdirect of modern times. I don't even think the police themselves understand what's going on, it's almost as if they're just a bunch of oblivious pawns all too happy to badge up and put down boots in a much bigger game than what's playing out in their little caged corner. Has everyone forgotten the past?

Com·mu·nism [kómmy? nizz?m] n

1. Com·mu·nism com·mu·nism Marxist-Leninist system: the Marxist-Leninist version of a classless society in which capitalism is overthrown by a working-class tricked into a fake revolution that gives ownership and control of wealth and property to the state. The people are led to believe it was their own idea, when all along the government had planned the move to socialism that inevitably creates the communism.
2. one-party state: any system of government in which a single, usually totalitarian, or antiquated multi-term party holds power, and the state controls the economy
3. The Obama-Biden system: a decades long plan of creating a socialist America to pave the path for full-on communist America to come. Using race, class, and pseudo-genders, as the premise for inflaming Americans against each other to destabilize the middle class and any threat to the government's new found totalitarianism under the guise of a safe, secure, and equal America. Effectively breaking the U.S. into only two classes: The government, and the people.
4. A system of "shield" laws that make it so the junior government at the state level no longer answers to tax payers or freedom of information requests, and using military and federal technology to attack digital privacy as the state takes at will control over all data exchanges between free Americans with the ability to monitor, manipulate, or jam, any and all, digital communications without warrant under the guise of public safety. In direct copy of communist Russia.

Wake up America. Government, state, and all their blue-clad pawns are not your superiors! They are our employees. Ego check them. Get the old guard out, anyone in office more than 8 years needs to go, ASAP. Stop letting them inch closer and closer to socialism... IN THE END IT'S ONLY YOU AGAINST BLUE.

Right now, even Biden is calling for police reform.

Defund police, and do it now while there's still time. Don't keep letting them model future America after old Russia, and certainly don't let the cops make you think it was your idea, or it was all for the safety of the public. Avoid giving police access to military technology or equipment, they exist to serve, not to monitor us, or to hijack or jam communications. They should avoid acting in any way whatsoever in a way akin to the actions of a communist state.

Defunding police does not mean getting rid of police, we need security guards for the public. But therein is part of the confusion, police forget what they actually are: civil servants. Take the millions of extra dollars cops and lawmakers are begging of the state and congress for things like advanced military tech only available to Federal agencies, and redirect it into things like education and helping the poor. You want to fight crime? Do your fucking job and fix the problem. Police expansion of resources is not the answer, nor is it something tax payers need to allow. How about you practice rehabilitation in your jails and prisons, respect the existence of mental health issues, acknowledge mitigating circumstances, and try parole eligibility for prisoners posing no threat to society (not based on crime, but instead base it on the actions and behaviors of the prisoner while incarcerated; which are more accurate indicators of a prisoner's true self). Defunding police means using funds for the prevention of crime at a societal level: providing things that help society evolve in ways that the need for people to commit crime are lessened. By fighting and reducing poverty, and lack of education, crime reduces in tandem with the economy and poverty rates.

Fight communism and say no to police expansion.

Fight communism and enforce term limits on all offices and positions of law. Say no to states empowering themselves on par with the Federal government, and close any and all police or prison training that teaches the devaluation of humans as "inmate" or "suspect". The pigs are uniting and the pits where they preen are overfilling with totalitarian idealism -- put a stop to it, while you still can.
